CONVOY OF HOPE

COUNTRY CAPSULE

2024

Tanzania

2024

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM NUMBERS

15,388 CHILDREN'S FEEDING PARTICIPANTS

9,956 WOMEN & GIRLS EMPOWERED

1,652 AGRICULTURE PARTICIPANTS

25 PROGRAM CENTERS

COUNTRY OVERVIEW

The Tanzanian economy depends on agriculture. While the country produces enough food to feed its population, the poorest families — including refugees — have limited access to it. Climate change has also become a concern, as it increases the vulnerability of crops and livestock amid natural disasters. In addition to this, Tanzania faces nutritional challenges, including malnutrition, anemia, and obesity. Convoy of Hope started working in Tanzania in 2013 through Children's Feeding and Women's Empowerment programs. Girls' Empowerment groups offer school-aged girls a safe environment to learn about life skills and other critical topics. Participants are equipped to become influential leaders in their communities and nation. The Agriculture program in Tanzania was launched in 2014.

Country Fast Facts

67.5 million[1]
Population

64.3%[2]
Labor force working in agriculture

43%[3]
Population living in extreme poverty, or on less than $1.90 a day

31.8%[3]
Children under 5 years old suffering from stunting

Your investment of $15,000 will ensure that 125 children are given a nutritious meal every school day.

Your investment of $25,000 will ensure that 25 women are empowered to start their own businesses.

Your investment of $35,000 will ensure that 1,400 girls are able to join an empowerment group, find community, and learn of their worth and value.

Your investment of $44,965 will ensure that 391 farmers are trained and equipped to provide food for their families and communities.

[1]Central Intelligence Agency. "Tanzania." (2025) https://www.cia.gov/the-world-factbook/countries/tanzania/#people-and-society
[2]"Tanzania." The World Almanac and Book of Facts 2024. (2023)
[3]Global Nutrition Report. "United Republic of Tanzania." (2022) https://globalnutritionreport.org/resources/nutrition-profiles/africa/eastern-africa/united-republic-tanzania/